

Social Media Interaction Policy

The AMI uses social media to build relationships with medical illustrators, valued members, allied organizations, the media and the public. The AMI appreciates the time readers take to interact on social media and encourages your comments, shares and reposts.

The AMI strives for all comments on AMI's social media channels to be as useful and relevant as possible to all readers. To that end, any inappropriate comments will be removed, including, without limitation, those in the categories below:

- Harassing comments: all comments need to be respectful towards our contributors and others leaving comments.
- Anonymous comments.
- Promotional comments.
- Posts that include copyright infringement and plagiarism/piracy of any nature.
- Material copyrighted or trademarked by anyone other than the person posting the material requires permission from the copyright/trademark holder.
- Comments that encourage or facilitate price-fixing or restraint of trade.
- Offensive, inflammatory, defamatory, profane, libelous or ad hominem posts or attacks.
- Threats of any kind, including those of a legal nature.
- Posts that include unauthorized private or personal information.

Use of AMI's social media channels constitutes agreement to the terms of this Policy Statement. The AMI reserves the right to remove any comments and block any individuals from AMI's social media platforms at any time such an action is warranted. The AMI is not liable for such postings by others, but the person/people making the comments may be at risk of civil litigation. The AMI does not have the bandwidth to reply to all comments received and specific requests for information should be directed to hq@ami.org.
